GREATER TORONTO AIRPORTS AUTHORITY

GTAA WELCOMES NEW VICE PRESIDENT

March 24, 2009

The Greater Toronto Airports Authority (GTAA) is pleased to announce the appointment of Pamela Griffith-Jones to the position of Vice President, Chief Marketing and Commercial Development Officer, effective March 30, 2009.

Ms. Griffith-Jones joins the GTAA to lead her team's efforts in promoting the airport, developing the Toronto Pearson brand and continuing to develop revenue generating programs.

Prior to joining the GTAA, Ms. Griffith-Jones held a variety of senior leadership roles in the retail and consumer goods industries, including Canadian Tire Corporation and Sears Canada. Her wealth of strategic marketing, retail and operational experience will be valuable in supporting the GTAA's goals of making Toronto Pearson a more competitive and sustainable airport.

Ms. Griffith-Jones is currently a member of the Sunnybrook Health Science Centre Board of Directors and has also been a board member with Altruvest Charitable Services and the Richard Ivey Alumni Advisory Board. She holds Honours Business Administration and Masters of Business Administration degrees from the Richard Ivey School of Business, University of Western Ontario.

In 2005, Ms. Griffith-Jones was recognized as part of Canada's Top 40 under 40 program.

Lloyd McCoomb, President and CEO of the GTAA said "Pamela's experience in strategic business management will be a tremendous advantage to the airport authority. We are very excited that she has accepted this position and look forward to having her lead the GTAA's efforts in creating an airport which serves, satisfies and delights."

The GTAA is the non-share, not for profit authority that operates Toronto Pearson. All revenue generated by the GTAA is reinvested back into the airport. In 2008, 32.3 million passengers travelled through Toronto Pearson.
